Ewan Pearson

Managing Director

Grant Pearson Brown Consulting Ltd

Ewan Pearson started his working career as a medical doctor, having graduated from the Universities of Cambridge and London. He quickly changed track and became an investment banker, working for Deutsche Bank as a corporate financier, then corporate broker and investment adviser to many companies.

In 1991 he changed career and became a management consultant, advising companies and partnerships on business development, negotiating, and key communications to key stakeholders. Over the years he has built up a significant presence in the PE and VC sectors in Europe and the USA, advising clients such as 2i, Actis, AnaCap, Bridgepoint, Campbell Lutyens, CDC, CVC, Duke Street, Exponent, L Capital, Meridiam, Northleaf, Old Ironsides, Permira, and Schroders.

In 2007, Ewan advised the majority of the PE bosses who were interviewed by the UK's Treasury Select Committee Enquiry into Private Equity, with very successful results. He has advised on dozens of PE and VC fundraisings and negotiations, such as investments in and exits from portfolios.
